

Thursday Morning Prayer
James Trivette 6.30.2011

Believe Today and Receive Today

What is it that you believe in? Do you think that the end is near or that today continues as yesterday? For yesterday, you were disappointed. Yesterday, you were discouraged. Yesterday, you were under the power of this world. But what do you believe today? For unless your heart is changed, all continues as before. For the world is moving toward destruction and the time is now to believe and receive. Receive healing, salvation, and hope. Receive wisdom, revelation, power, and destiny. Choose Me today for today I choose My faithful. Will you be called and chosen? Today decide to spread your wings of faith. For tomorrow will not bring more for you than this very day, unless you take faith and take flight. If you cannot do it today, then tomorrow will not have to look very far to find you.